Here is something inspiring and contemporary, a release that promises a musical future in which every sound could be turned to innovative use.

Omar Faruk Tekbilek and Yasmin Levy's heartwarming ballad, 'Vivir' is a true masterpiece.

The passionate singing in Ladino, the Judeo-Spanish language of the Sephardic Jewish and traditional instruments combined for a true dose of emotional.

It couldn't get any better until S.I.S Project got their hands on it. Ilker Tandoğan & Seçkin Öz-er's deep house version took the powerful vocals of the original and fused in their signature sound, creating a medium tempo remix with something of a Balearic feeling.

What makes the remix remarkable is that it made 'Vivir' a whole other thing entirely without ever losing sight of the song at its core.
